BRIGADIER GENERAL CARLTON A. FISHER, USMCR (Ret.)

Past National Commandant

MARINE CORPS LEAGUE

1931 1934

GUEST OF HONOR

Carlton Alanson Fisher, was born on a farm in Darion, where his father and grandfather were born, the son of Carlton Grannis Fisher and Macy Springer, who was born in Buffalo. Carlton attended a one room school for his first eight grades and later attended Alden High School, Alexander High School and Attica High School. While at Attica he became interested in music and together with Harold Osterag, a former member of Congress from the 39th District he formed an orchestra playing for entertainments and dances. He received scholarships through his musical efforts to New York Military Academy at Cornwall on the Hudson and the Western Military Academy at Alton, Illinois, where he played in the cadet bands. In May 1915, he graduated at Western and in order to earn money to attend college he joined Al G. Barnes Big Four Sing Wild Animal Circus and played with the Circus Band until the opening of Law School of New York University, in the fall of 1916. His first year was not over when World War I began. He immediately enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve as a private and was called to active duty on June 2, 1917. In July 1918 he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant and later a First Lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps, and after fall of 1919, resuming studies at NYU, attending night classes and working as an accountant during the day. In 1921 he obtained his LLB degree and was admitted to the bar at Brooklyn, N.Y. He then came to Buffalo becoming associated with the firm of Lock, Babcock, Spratt and Hollister.

In 1926 he re-entered the Corps Reserve as a First Lieutenant, enrolled in various correspondence courses conducted by the Marine Corps Schools working his way to Captain and later to Major, the rank he held at the opening of World War II. Although 45 years old, actively engaged in the practice of law and married he reported for active duty again with his favorite branch of service, the U.S. Marines. He attended the Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas and upon graduation he became G2 of the Marine Corps School. When the 4th Marine Division was formed, Fisher, then a Lieutenant Colonel joined the Division Staff and remained with the division until released from active service after the battle of Iwo Jima. During the invasion of Saipan and Tinian he served as liaison officer of the 2nd Marine Division, after which he commanded the Marine Base Camp on the Island of Maui. Promoted to the rank of full Colonel he returned home to become Commanding Officer of the Marine Corps Reserve Training Unit in Buffalo. He later attained the rank of Brigadier General, the rank at which he retired from the Corps.

In January, 1946 Fisher was appointed a Judge of Erie County Court. In 1947 he ran for Surrogate Court and won by a substantial majority despite a Democratic trend of that year. He was elected Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, 8th Judicial District in November of 1952 for a 14-year term. He was re-elected in November 1960. He retired as Justice of the Supreme Court when he attained the age of 70 in April, 1967.

Justice Fisher was certified by the Administrative Board of the Judicial Conference of the State of New York as a retired Justice of the Supreme Court for a period of two years and re-certified for another two years commencing January 1st, 1970.
